

About the Supplement Authors

Rebecca R. DeMarb is a partner with Swanson Sweet LLP in Madison, Wisconsin. She returned to practicing law in early 2024, after taking a hiatus in 2021 to work for Development Specialists Inc. (DSI) as a senior managing director, and Ms. DeMarb retains a contract relationship with DSI. In total, she has 27 years of experience in bankruptcy, workouts, restructuring, receiverships, and assignments. Ms. DeMarb's industry experience includes construction, manufacturing, service businesses, hospitality, intellectual property, c-stores, e-businesses, dealerships, medical technology, all types of real estate, health care, agriculture, and more. As an attorney, Ms. DeMarb represents businesses and other interested parties in bankruptcies, state court receiverships, sales of business assets, and out-of-court business reorganizations. In addition, for more than 15 years, Ms. DeMarb has been appointed as a receiver in state and federal courts, including as a Chapter 128 receiver in Wisconsin, for operating and liquidating businesses. Ms. DeMarb is the founding member of the Wisconsin Network of IWIRC (International Women's Insolvency & Restructuring Confederation), and she is in her fifth year on IWIRC's international board, currently serving as co-director of U.S. networks. In addition, Ms. DeMarb is the Wisconsin state director for the Commercial Receivers Association, a full member of the National Association of Federal Equity Receivers, active in the Turnaround Management Association, and a member of the American Bankruptcy Institute's Central States Committee.

Peter T. Nowak is an associate with Swanson Sweet LLP in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. He represents individuals and businesses in restructurings, financial reorganizations, bankruptcy, and other debt adjustment strategies. His practice also focuses on litigation, including representing both trustees and defendants in preferential and fraudulent transfer disputes. He is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin's Bankruptcy, Insolvency & Creditors' Right Section and serves on the Continuing Legal Education Committee. He received his B.A. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his J.D. from the University of Wisconsin Law School.

