

About the Authors

Michael A. Bowen is a recently retired partner with Foley & Lardner LLP, where he worked as part of the firm's Distribution & Franchise Practice Group. His practice focused on commercial litigation and arbitration at both the trial and appellate levels, with dealer/distributor disputes playing an important role. He received a B.A. in history from Rockhurst College, Kansas City, Missouri, graduating summa cum laude in 1973. He graduated cum laude in 1976 from Harvard Law School, where he served on the law review and was a member of the winning team in the Ames Competition (moot court). In addition to coauthoring The Wisconsin Fair Dealership Law, he is coauthor of the Wisconsin section of Aspen Publications' business torts deskbook. He played a key role in preparation of the section on dispute resolution in CCH's Product Distribution Law Guide and wrote the section on the American legal system in the Oxford Companion to Crime and Mystery Fiction. He has written numerous articles on arbitration, alternative fee arrangements, and other topics for professional journals. His original legal publication was Discovery in Patent Interference Proceedings, 89 Harv. L. Rev. 573 (1976), which he assures us is every bit as fascinating as the title suggests. He has also written several published novels.

Brian E. Butler is retired from the law firm of Stafford Rosenbaum LLP. He practices alternative dispute resolution. He is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers. He received an A.B. degree from Dartmouth College in 1965 and a J.D. from Northwestern University, where he wrote for the Northwestern University Law Review, in 1968.

Cassandra H. McCauley previously worked as senior counsel with Harley-Davidson Motor Company and in Foley & Lardner LLP's Milwaukee office, where she was a member of the firm's Distribution & Franchise Practice Group and focused on dealer/distribution counseling and litigation and business litigation. She received a B.A. in Psychology and French from the University of Virginia, graduating with high distinction in 1998. She graduated magna cum laude in 2001 from the University of Georgia School of Law, where she was a member of the Georgia Law Review and Order of the Coif. Following law school, Ms. McCauley was a law clerk for Magistrate Judge William E. Callahan, Jr., in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin. Her other publications include The Changing American Family: A Reevaluation of the Rights of Foster Parents When Biological Parental Rights Have Been Terminated, 35 Ga. L. Rev. 313 (2000); coauthor, California chapter, Franchise Desk Book (2d ed. 2008); and contributor, ABA Forum on Franchising, Joel R. Buckberg & Jon P. Christiansen, Annual Franchise and Distribution Law Developments 2009 (2009).

Joseph P. Wright was a partner in the Madison office of Stafford Rosenbaum LLP. He received his A.B. from Harvard College in 1985 and his J.D. cum laude from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1988. He was a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin and the Oregon State Bar (inactive). He concentrated his practice in business litigation, including cases under the Wisconsin Fair Dealership Law. He wrote two Wisconsin Lawyer articles on the Wisconsin Fair Dealership Law, Understanding the Wisconsin Fair Dealership Law (Nov. 2009), and Determining ‘Community of Interest’ under the WFDL (Dec. 2004). Mr. Wright was also a coauthor of The Right to Cure a Contract Breach, Wis. Law., Dec. 2010. For more than a decade, Mr. Wright authored or coauthored the Trade Regulation chapter in Annual Survey of Wisconsin Law and coauthored the chapter on Venue, Statutes of Limitations, and Other Initial Considerations in Wisconsin Civil Procedure Before Trial, both books published by State Bar of Wisconsin. He was a member of the Wisconsin Lawyers’ Fund for Client Protection, a committee administered by the State Bar of Wisconsin (member, 2005–2009; 2011–2012; vice-chair, 2011–2012).
