

About the Authors

John L. Horwich retired as the Green Infrastructure Program Director for The Trust for Public Land. He previously taught environmental and property law at the University of Montana School of Law, and, from 1975 to 1990, practiced law at Reinhart Boerner Van Deuren, s.c., Milwaukee, concentrating in real estate and environmental law. Mr. Horwich received his undergraduate degree in 1972 from Princeton University and his law degree in 1975 from Cornell Law School.

Michael H. Simpson retired as a shareholder in the real estate practice at Reinhart Boerner Van Deuren, s.c. Mr. Simpson received his undergraduate degree in 1968 from Northwestern University, his master's degree in business administration in 1969 from the University of Chicago, and his law degree in 1975 from the University of Wisconsin.

Bruce T. Block is of counsel for Reinhart Boerner Van Deuren, s.c.'s real estate practice. Mr. Block received his undergraduate degree in 1976 from the University of Wisconsin and his law degree in 1979 from Boston University School of Law. He is a member of the American College of Real Estate Lawyers.

Troy E. Giles is a shareholder at Reinhart Boerner Van Deuren, s.c. and is a member of the firm's real estate practice and environmental litigation practice. Mr. Giles received his undergraduate degree from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and his law degree from the University of Wyoming College of Law. He is a board member for several Wisconsin-based charitable organizations and participates in various trade groups and associations related to real estate and environmental matters.

Very special thanks are extended to attorney Robert A. Ernest for his help updating this book. Mr. Ernest is an attorney in the real estate practice at the Milwaukee office of Reinhart Boerner Van Deuren, s.c. He received his law degree, summa cum laude, from Marquette University Law School and his undergraduate degree, magna cum laude, from the University of St. Thomas.