

About the Supplement Authors

Eric L. Andrews is an associate with Crivello Carlson, S.C., Milwaukee. He works in state, federal, and administrative forums. While at Marquette Law School, Eric served as a paralegal and law clerk for the firm. Eric has served on the Wisconsin Association of African American Lawyers' (WAAL) board since 2012, was president for 2014–15, and was WAAL's liaison to the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He is a member of the American Bar Association, the Defense Research Institute, the Eastern District of Wisconsin Bar Association, the Milwaukee Bar Association, the State Bar of Wisconsin, and Wisconsin Defense Counsel and was recently appointed to Wisconsin Defense Counsel's Amicus Committee. Eric also is on the Milwaukee Kickers Soccer Club board and previously volunteered with YMCA Sponsor-A-Scholar Mentorship Program, aimed at potential first-generation college students; his mentee is a rising sophomore at Marquette University.

Corey F. Finkelmeyer is an assistant attorney general and the director of the Civil Litigation Unit at the Wisconsin Department of Justice. He supervises the defense of lawsuits brought against the state and its employees and represents the state and its employees in major litigation. He received both his B.A. and J.D. from the University of Wisconsin. He is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin and is admitted to practice in the Western and Eastern Districts of Wisconsin and the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals.

Samuel C. Hall, Jr. is a shareholder at Crivello Carlson, S.C., Milwaukee. He received his bachelor's degree and law degree from Marquette University. During law school, Sam was a St. Thomas More Scholar for three years and a member of the Marquette Sports Law Review. His principal practice focuses on civil rights litigation and appellate practice. He has successfully defended hundreds of governmental officials, law enforcement officers, and municipalities in cases involving alleged civil rights violations. Sam is admitted to practice and has defended law enforcement in high-profile cases in Wisconsin, Illinois, and New York state courts, the U.S. Supreme Court, the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, and federal district courts in Wisconsin, Illinois, New York, Texas, and Pennsylvania. Based on his experience in defending law enforcement officers, Sam has been a keynote speaker and lecturer for many law enforcement organizations and was also an instructor for a master's level course offered by the University of Wisconsin for law enforcement command staff.

Jennifer Sloan Lattis is a senior system legal counsel for the University of Wisconsin. From 1989 to 2010, she worked as an assistant attorney general for the Wisconsin Department of Justice, focusing in civil litigation. Ms. Lattis received her J.D. from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1989.

MaryNell Regan is the executive director of the Milwaukee Fire and Police Commission. Previously, she was a Milwaukee assistant city attorney and appeared in state and federal court focusing on protected services, school law, employment law, civil rights, and municipal law. She received her law degree from Marquette University in 1994 and was an associate editor on the Marquette Law Review. Before working for the city of Milwaukee, she was employed with Riordan, Crivello, Carlson, Mentkowski & Steeves, S.C., practicing employment, civil rights, school, land use, and environmental law, as well as products liability and insurance defense. She is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin, is an advocate for animal welfare and socioeconomic justice, and serves on several nonprofit boards within the city of Milwaukee.

John M. Vandlik is a senior counsel with the Milwaukee office of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Office of the General Counsel. He provides legal services to the USDA, advising the Forest Service on natural resource and environmental law issues relating to national forest management. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Illinois and his law degree from the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago–Kent College of Law. He has authored articles for the Public Administration Review and the Fordham Environmental Law Journal. The views expressed in this book by Mr. Vandlik are his own and do not necessarily reflect those of the USDA or the Office of the General Counsel.