

About the Author

---

Peter J. Block is a Milwaukee assistant city attorney and a 2002 graduate of DePaul University College of Law. He advises and represents the city of Milwaukee and all its departments in all public records and open meetings law issues and represents the city's Information Management Committee and the city's Ethics Board. He has written articles on both public records and open meetings for the Wisconsin Lawyer magazine and is a frequent speaker on both subjects. In his 10 years with the city of Milwaukee, he has also served as a municipal prosecutor and assisted in general litigation and contracting. He was recently appointed by the Wisconsin Supreme Court to the Office of Lawyer Regulation's Special Investigative Panel. Before working for the city, he was a law clerk for the Milwaukee County Circuit Court.