

About the Authors

Stephen E. Arthur is a partner with the Indianapolis-based firm of Harrison & Moberly LLP. He is certified as a Civil Trial Advocate by the National Board of Trial Advocacy and a member of the American Board of Trial Advocates (Past President, Indiana Chapter). Mr. Arthur served as a law clerk to Chief Justice Richard M. Givan of the Indiana Supreme Court, was a Captain in the United States Marine Corps, and has litigated civil trial and appellate actions in Indiana for more than 35 years. He was honored to receive a Distinguished Barrister Award in 2018 from the Indiana Lawyer and a Civility Award in 2014 from the Litigation Section of the Indiana State Bar Association. Currently serving on the Rules and Practice Committee of the Seventh Circuit Bar Association, Mr. Arthur authors several treatises and books on federal and Indiana civil trial and appellate practice. These include the Federal Trial Handbook; Indiana Civil Trial Practice and Procedure; Arthur's Trial Handbook for Indiana Lawyers; Civil Trial Rule Handbook; and Harvey's Indiana Rules of Procedure Annotated. And, he was a contributing author to the American Bar Association's Appellate Practice Compendium ("The Insider's Guide to the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit").

Michael T. Brody is a partner in the law firm of Jenner & Block LLP and is a co-chair of its appellate and class-action practice groups. He was formerly a law clerk to the late Antonin Scalia, when Justice Scalia served as a member of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. He is a member of the Seventh Circuit Bar Association, having previously served the association in numerous capacities, including as its president. He is chair of the Seventh Circuit Bar Association Foundation and is a former board chair of the Evanston Community Foundation. He is a frequent teacher of the class-action-practice seminar at the University of Chicago Law School.

Carol A. Brook was the executive director of the Federal Defender Program for the Northern District of Illinois. She completed a six-year term as a member of the Federal Judicial Conference's Advisory Committee on Criminal Rules, chaired the Panel Attorney Selection Committee for the Northern District of Illinois, served on the board of the Chicago Chapter of the Federal Bar Association, and was an advisor to the ALI-ABA Continuing Professional Education Programming

Committee. She is past president of the Illinois Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers and the National Association of Federal Defenders and is an active writer and speaker on issues of racial disparity in the criminal justice system, discovery, ethics, and sentencing.

Chad Clamage is vice president at Burford Capital LLC. Before joining Burford, Chad practiced in Mayer Brown LLP's Supreme Court and Appellate practice group and focused on class-action defense, environmental law, and general civil appeals. Before his time at Mayer Brown, Chad clerked for Judge Diane S. Sykes of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

James Dasso is chair of the Chicago Litigation Department at Foley & Lardner LLP. From 1986 to 1987, he served as a law clerk for Judge J. Edward Lumbard of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

Peter J. Donoghue is the founder of the Donoghue Law Firm, Ltd., Chicago, where he practices in commercial litigation. He was formerly a law clerk to Judge Kenneth F. Ripple of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

Collins T. Fitzpatrick is the Circuit Executive for the federal courts in the Seventh Circuit. He began work at the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit in 1971 as a law clerk to the late Circuit Judge Roger J. Kiley. He served as law clerk and administrative assistant to former Chief Judge Luther M. Swygert before his appointment as Senior Staff Attorney in 1975 and Circuit Executive in 1976. He is a Fellow of the Court Executive Program of the Institute for Court Management, a Master of the Bench in the Chicago Inn of Court, a member of the Seventh Circuit, Chicago, and American Bar Associations, and a Fulbright Specialist. He is a frequent national and international speaker about the federal judicial process, ethics, and the independence of the judiciary. He has an undergraduate degree from Marquette University, a law degree from Harvard University, and a graduate degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Joseph S. Harper is an associate attorney at Foley & Lardner LLP in Madison, where he is a member of the firm's Business Litigation & Dispute Resolution Practice. He has previously worked as an educator and holds an M. Phil. in analytic political philosophy from New York University in addition to his law degree from the University of Chicago.

Linda S. Isnard is an attorney with Isnard Law Offices, LLC, in Mequon, and an experienced practitioner in state and federal appellate courts. She is admitted to practice in the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals and is a member of the American Bar Association and Seventh Circuit Bar Association.

Michael D. Leffel is a partner at Foley & Lardner LLP in Madison, where he is a member of the firm's Appellate, Consumer Financial Services, and Business Litigation & Dispute Resolution practices and vice chair of the firm's Consumer Law, Finance & Class Action Group. He formerly was a clerk for the Honorable Karen Nelson Moore of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit and the managing editor of the Michigan Law Review. He is a member of the Seventh Circuit Bar Association.

Barry Levenstam is of counsel to the law firm of Jenner & Block, LLP and its Appellate and Supreme Court Practice group. From 1978 to 1979 he was a law clerk to the late Philip W. Tone, then judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. He received the Walter J. Cummings Award presented by the Federal Bar Association in recognition of excellent service as appointed counsel before the Seventh Circuit in 1995. He also received the inaugural John Paul Stevens Pro Bono and Public Service Award presented by the Seventh Circuit Bar Association in recognition of outstanding pro bono service in the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals in 2010. He is a member of the Seventh Circuit Bar Association.

Jeffrey A. Parness is a Professor Emeritus at the College of Law of Northern Illinois University. From 1974 to 1976 he was a law clerk for Judge James B. Parsons of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. He was a tenured law professor at the University of Akron and has been a visiting law professor at Loyola University of Chicago, Southern Illinois University, Washington and Lee University, Case Western Reserve University School of Law, the John Marshall Law School in Chicago, the University of Kansas, and Marquette University.

Amy Kobelski Trueblood is a law clerk to a U.S. District Judge in the Eastern District of Missouri. From 2003 to 2008, she was an associate in the Chicago office of Jenner & Block LLP and a member of its Appellate and Supreme Court Practice group. From 2002 to 2003, she was a law clerk to the Honorable Frank F. Drowota, III, then chief justice of the Tennessee Supreme Court. She graduated magna cum laude from Harvard University in 1999 and is a 2002 graduate of the University of Virginia School of Law.

Ramon Villalpando is an assistant U.S. Attorney in Chicago. Previously he was an attorney in the Chicago office of Jenner & Block LLP, as well as a law clerk to the Honorable Ruben Castillo of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the Honorable Carl E. Stewart of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Notre Dame and his law degree from Stanford University.

Donald J. Wall is Counsel to the Circuit Executive for the Seventh Circuit. He was the Senior Staff Attorney to the Seventh Circuit from 1988 to 1997. From 1984 to 1986 he was a staff law clerk to the court. He is a past chair of the American Bar Association's Council of Appellate Staff Attorneys and is a past chair of the Appellate Practice Section of the State Bar of Wisconsin. He graduated from Carleton College and received a law degree from Marquette University Law School. He currently serves on the Marquette University Law School's alumni board.

Joshua D. Yount is a partner in the Chicago office of Mayer Brown LLP. He is a member of the firm's Supreme Court and Appellate practice group. He also is an associate editor for Illinois for the Circuit Rider, the journal of the Seventh Circuit Bar Association. Before joining Mayer Brown, Josh worked at the Seventh Circuit as a staff attorney and a law clerk for Judge Diane Wood and Judge Ann Claire Williams.

Authors of Previous Editions

Michael K. Cavanaugh	Brian L. Pierson
Adrian N. Cohen	Howard A. Pollack
William M. Conley	Kristin L. Rakowski
Michael M. Conway	Susan R. Robertson
Fernand N. Dutile	John A. Scanlan, Jr.
William M. Evans	James C. Schroeder
Laura A. Kaster	Barbara S. Shulman
Ramsay Laing Klaff	John S. Skilton
Terence F. MacCarthy	Krista J. Sterken
F. Thomas Olson	Thomas F. Strubbe
W. Stuart Parsons	Philip W. Tone
George T. Patton, Jr.	Bree Grossi Wilde
Elizabeth Erickson Pevehouse	Thomas W. Yoder