About the Authors

Steven R. Barth is a partner in the Business Law Department of Foley & Lardner LLP, where he served as the co-chair of the firm's Transactional and Securities Practice Group and as a member of the firm's Management Committee. Mr. Barth received his J.D. (cum laude) from the University of Michigan in 1984. He earned his B.S., with highest distinction, in finance from Indiana University in 1981. Mr. Barth is a frequent speaker on acquisition issues, financing transactions, SEC compliance, and corporate governance matters. In 2003, Mr. Barth wrote Corporate Ethics—The Business Code of Conduct for Ethical Employees.

Scott W. Brunner is a partner with Husch Blackwell LLP, where he is a member of the firm's Financial Services & Capital Markets practice. His primary areas of practice include securities, mergers and acquisitions, early stage companies and venture capital, and general corporate law. Mr. Brunner received his J.D. (cum laude) from Marquette University Law School, where he was the managing editor of the Marquette Law Review. He received his B.A. (summa cum laude) from the University of Minnesota.

Shawn M. Govern is a partner in the law firm of DeWitt LLP, where he is a member of the firm's Business Practice Group. Mr. Govern, who received his J.D. from Marquette University Law School and his B.A. from St. John's University, concentrates his practice in the areas of business law for small- and medium-sized companies, civil litigation, real estate, probate, and estate planning. He is admitted to practice before all Wisconsin trial and appellate courts, the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Wisconsin, and the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals.

Matthew J. Hills is a partner with DeWitt LLP, where he practices business law. Mr. Hills received his B.A. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and J.D. (cum laude) from Marquette University Law School, where he served as associate editor of the Marquette Law Review.

Daniel J. Kersey is a partner with Quarles & Brady LLP and a member of its Business Law Group. He focuses his practice on mergers and acquisitions and private equity transactions. He joined Quarles & Brady

LLP in 2017 from Sidley Austin LLP, where he was an associate in its Corporate Group from 2014 to 2017. Mr. Kersey received his B.B.A. in Accounting from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his J.D. (summa cum laude) from the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Austin R. Kissinger is an associate and business lawyer with Foley & Lardner LLP. As a member of the firm's Transactions Practice Group, Mr. Kissinger regularly represents public and private companies in general corporate and business law matters. Mr. Kissinger's experience includes work on mergers and acquisition transactions, corporate reorganizations, debt offerings, SEC disclosure obligations, general corporate governance, and commercial contract matters. Mr. Kissinger earned his law degree from the University of Chicago, where he was the Executive Articles Editor for the Chicago Legal Forum. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Mitchell D. Lindstrom is a senior counsel in the Milwaukee office of Foley & Lardner LLP. He is a member of the firm's Transactions Practice Group and practices a variety of transactional and health care work, including mergers and acquisitions, private equity, and corporate governance matters. He received his undergraduate degree (magna cum laude) from Marquette University and his law degree (cum laude) from Marquette University Law School.

Ryan P. Morrison is a partner in the Milwaukee office of Quarles & Brady LLP, practicing in the areas of corporate finance, securities regulation, mergers and acquisitions, and general corporate law. Mr. Morrison is national chair of the firm's Corporate Finance/Securities team. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse and his law degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Ryan L. Van Den Elzen is a partner with Quarles & Brady LLP, where he is the leader of the firm's national mergers and acquisitions team. His primary areas of practice include mergers and acquisitions, private equity fund formation and operations, and corporate venturing. Mr. Van Den Elzen received his B.S. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his J.D. (summa cum laude) from the University of Notre Dame.

Past Authors
Thomas L. Frenn
Jason M. Hille

Terry D. Nelson
James M. Reeves
Hoyt R. Stastney