

About the Authors

Kristin K. Beilke is an attorney with the Office of the Chapter 12 and 13 Standing Trustee in the Western District of Wisconsin. Previously, she was a shareholder at Murphy Desmond S.C. and a co-chair of the firm's Creditors' Rights, Business Bankruptcy and Commercial Litigation Practice Group. She received her B.A. from the University of Wisconsin–Madison and her J.D. from Loyola University Chicago School of Law, where she was a member of the Loyola University Chicago International Law Review. She is admitted to practice before the Wisconsin Supreme Court, the Illinois Supreme Court, and the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Wisconsin and the Northern District of Illinois.

Catherine J. Furay is the Chief U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Western District of Wisconsin. Judge Furay is a frequent lecturer on bankruptcy, commercial law, ethics, community property, and litigation topics. She is a member of the Bankruptcy Judges Advisory Group to the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts (AO). She also served as the bankruptcy judge member of the Advisory Process Review Working Group, a member of the Advisory Group for the AO's Bankruptcy Case Weighting Study, and on the Space and Security Advisory Council. In 2019, Judge Furay became the editor-in-chief of Ginsberg & Martin on Bankruptcy. She is a Fellow in the American College of Bankruptcy. Judge Furay is a member of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges, currently as its treasurer and a member of the executive committee, and she has served on various other committees. She is a member of the Turnaround Management Association and is past president of the Certification Oversight Committee and a member of the board of trustees. As a member of American Bankruptcy Institute, she has served on various committees. She is a contributing author of chapter 16, "Bankruptcy," in Construction Law (Steven G.M. Stein, ed., 2006 & Supp. 2023). She is the author of numerous articles on bankruptcy, collection, marital property, and litigation topics. Judge Furay has served on the board of governors and various committees of the State Bar of Wisconsin, including its executive and finance committees.

Robert (Bob) A. Pasch is of counsel with the firm of Murphy Desmond S.C. He received his B.A. in 1968 from Tulane University and his J.D. in 1972 from the University of Wisconsin Law School. He has practiced law in Madison since 1972 and is admitted to practice in the state of Wisconsin, the U.S. District Courts for the Western and Eastern Districts of Wisconsin, the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Wisconsin, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, and the U.S. Supreme Court. Mr. Pasch's practice emphasized creditors' rights, collection law, contract law, general business representation, real and personal property leases, and commercial law and litigation. Mr. Pasch authored Wisconsin Collection Law (1993 and 2006 editions), published by Thomson/West, which is now volumes 12 and 13 of the Wisconsin Practice Series, with annual supplements.

Nicole I. Pellerin is an attorney with the Wisconsin Department of Revenue and previously was a shareholder at Murphy Desmond S.C. in Madison, Wisconsin, and was co-chair of the firm's Creditors' Rights, Business Bankruptcy and Commercial Litigation Practice Group, where she focused her practice primarily on bankruptcy and other insolvency matters. She represented individual and business debtors and creditors in all chapters of bankruptcy and other insolvency proceedings, including creditors' committees in Chapter 11 actions, and she represented Chapter 7 trustees across Wisconsin and receivers in state court receiverships. Ms. Pellerin previously served as associate editor of the American Bankruptcy Trustee Journal, a publication of the National Association of Bankruptcy Trustees. She was previously recognized by Wisconsin Super Lawyers in creditor debtor rights and as a "Rising Star" by Super Lawyers in the same practice area.

Randy J. Pflum is an attorney in the Madison office of Quarles & Brady, LLP, in the Bankruptcy, Restructuring & Creditor's Rights Practice Group. After graduating from law school, Mr. Pflum served as a judicial clerk to the Honorable Catherine J. Furay of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Wisconsin.

James D. Sweet is a partner in Swanson Sweet LLP. He represents businesses, individuals, and other interested parties and groups in Wisconsin, the Northern District of Iowa, the Northern District of Illinois, and the District of Delaware in bankruptcy cases. He also represents companies and other parties in the state courts of Wisconsin in receivership actions, purchase or sale of business assets, and out-of-court restructuring, workouts, and reorganizations. Mr. Sweet has extensive experience representing debtors, creditor committees, bondholder committees, bankruptcy trustees, receivers, banks and other secured creditors, and other types of creditors, as well as purchasers of assets and businesses in bankruptcy cases. He has also acted as a receiver in several cases. His skills, knowledge, and experience have earned him inclusion in myriad professional associations and have garnered multiple awards. Mr. Sweet was chosen as a Fellow by the American College of Bankruptcy in 2014. He is also a Fellow of the Wisconsin Bar Foundation. Mr. Sweet obtained a B.A. degree with honors from the University of Wisconsin–Eau Claire in 1975. Following college, he attended the University of Wisconsin Law School, where he earned a J.D. in 1978. He is an active member of the American Bar Association, the Turnaround Management Association, and the American Bankruptcy Institute, and he is a past founding director and past president and chairperson of the American Boards of Certification. He is a frequent lecturer on bankruptcy, insolvency, and workout matters throughout the Midwest and at national professional conferences.

Jane F. (Ginger) Zimmerman is a shareholder in Murphy Desmond S.C. and currently serves as the firm’s president. She also chairs the firm’s Creditors’ Rights, Business Bankruptcy and Commercial Litigation Practice Group. She received her B.S.B.A. from Georgetown University and her J.D. from the University of Wisconsin Law School. Ms. Zimmerman has lectured and written on a variety of bankruptcy, commercial law, and business subjects. From 2023 through 2025, she served as chairperson of the board for the Bankruptcy, Insolvency & Creditors’ Rights Section of the State Bar of Wisconsin. Prior to serving as chair, Ms. Zimmerman chaired a special committee of the board on chapter 128 receiverships. She was a member of the panel for the Annual Debtor-Creditor Law Conference presented by the University of Wisconsin, Continuing Legal Education for Wisconsin from 2005 to 2014. She also has lectured for the University of Wisconsin Lawyering Skills program, has served on the faculty of the Certified Professional Turnaround Forensics Workshop, and has been a speaker and panelist for the Central State’s Workshop of the American Bankruptcy Institute. Ms. Zimmerman is the author of “Bankruptcy in Wonderland: What Alice Needs to Know,” Wisconsin Woman, Dec. 2006, and “Moving Vehicles No Longer Hidden Treasure,” American Bankruptcy Institute Journal, Nov. 2005, Lien on Me Column. She is admitted to practice in the state of Wisconsin, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, and the U.S. Supreme Court. Ms. Zimmerman is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin, the American Bar Association, the Dane County Bar Association, the Western District of Wisconsin Bar Association, the Western District Bankruptcy Bar, the Turnaround Management Association, and the American Bankruptcy Institute. She is a founding officer of the Wisconsin Network of the International Women’s Insolvency & Restructuring Confederation. She has served on various committees for these associations. Her practice includes business reorganizations and bankruptcy, secured transactions, creditors' rights and collections, and agricultural and commercial transactions and litigation. She represents creditors, debtors, committees, receivers, and trustees in bankruptcies, collections, reorganizations, chapter 128 receiverships, and liquidations, and has served as a chapter 128 receiver and a chapter 11 trustee.

Authors of Previous Editions

Charles G. Center

Brittany S. Ogden

Brian P. Thill