

About the Supplement Authors

Jennifer L. Amundsen is the founder and principal at Amundsen Law Firm, LLC. While she primarily practices in the areas of business, intellectual property, and technology, she has also developed a niche practice in canine and equine law, advising owners and breeders of companion animals (primarily dogs) and horses on issues pertaining to their businesses and hobbies. She has represented dog clubs and equine groups, veterinarians, and boarding facilities, and she is a frequent speaker on legal topics pertaining to animals. Ms. Amundsen is a 2003 graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School (J.D.) and a 1994 graduate of Kalamazoo College (B.A.).

Alexander Lemke is an attorney in the litigation practice group of Meissner Tierney Fisher & Nichols S.C., Milwaukee. He focuses on assisting clients in complex commercial, intellectual property, regulatory, insurance, and employment litigation. While attending the Tulsa College of Law, he received highest honors, graduating in the top 10% of his class, and was the managing editor for the Tulsa Law Review. He completed his undergraduate degree at the University of Dallas, where he obtained a B.S. in chemistry.

