

About the Author

Jennifer L. Amundsen is the founder and principal at Amundsen Law Firm, LLC. While she primarily practices in the areas of business, intellectual property, and technology law, she has also developed a niche practice in canine and equine law, advising owners and breeders of companion animals (primarily dogs) and horses on issues pertaining to their businesses and hobbies. She has represented dog clubs and equine groups, veterinarians, and boarding facilities, and she is a frequent speaker on legal topics pertaining to animals. Ms. Amundsen is a 2003 graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School (J.D.) and a 1994 graduate of Kalamazoo College (B.A.).