

About the Supplement Authors

Bryan Cahill is a shareholder in the Madison office of Godfrey & Kahn, S.C. Mr. Cahill litigates eminent domain and land-use cases, defends products-liability and insurance sales practice actions, and represents clients in commercial litigation from pre-suit advising through trial and appeals. He served as a law clerk to Justice David T. Prosser on the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and he serves as a supplemental court commissioner in Dane County.

C. Kai Hovden is a litigation associate in the Madison office of DeWitt LLP. His practice includes appeals, intellectual property litigation, employment law matters, and business disputes. Kai received his undergraduate degree in international politics and Spanish from Winona State University in 2014 and his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 2017. He is admitted to practice in Wisconsin state courts and in the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Wisconsin.

Michael R. Kruse is a litigation attorney in the Brookfield office of DeWitt LLP. His practice focuses on personal injury, business disputes, contract cases, and other litigation matters. Michael graduated cum laude from Augustana University with degrees in economics and business administration in 2010 and received his J.D., cum laude, from Saint Louis University in 2013 with a certificate in employment law. Michael is admitted to practice in Wisconsin and its federal district courts.

Blake A. Nold is a member of the litigation practice group in the Milwaukee office of Davis|Kuelthau, s.c. He earned his J.D. from Marquette University Law School and his Bachelor of Arts and M.B.A. degrees from Assumption College.

Richard Orton is counsel with Gass Weber Mullins LLC in Milwaukee. Mr. Orton handles civil trials and appeals, focusing his practice on products liability, general liability, professional liability, and commercial, construction, and insurance litigation. He represents clients in complex claims in forums throughout Wisconsin and the United States. Mr. Orton is licensed to practice in Wisconsin, Illinois, and multiple federal district courts and has been admitted pro hac vice in multiple state and federal trial and appellate courts, including New York and California. Before joining Gass Weber Mullins, Mr. Orton was a shareholder at one of Wisconsin's largest civil litigation firms. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School and Marquette University.

