

About the Authors

---

Christopher S. Krimmer, lead author, is a partner at Forward Legal Services LLC, where he practices statewide in family law and LGBT law. He was an adjunct professor of law for approximately 13 years at Marquette University Law School, where he taught pretrial skills and a course in sexual orientation and the law. He graduated cum laude from the University of Wisconsin Law School and magna cum laude from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, where he received a bachelor of arts degree. Attorney Krimmer has worked extensively in the field of gay and lesbian rights, with numerous publications and seminar presentations. He founded the first statewide nonprofit legal services program serving individuals with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) and also served as the legal director for the Legal Services Program at the AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin, where he represented hundreds of clients in a variety of legal disputes, including discrimination, bankruptcy, confidentiality breaches, and estate planning.

Emily Dudak Leiter is a shareholder at The Law Center, S.C., in Madison, Wisconsin. She practices in the areas of adoption (domestic and international), immigration, assisted reproduction (including domestic and international surrogacy), and LGBTQ family formation (including parentage, adoption, and estate planning). Emily has a special interest in children's immigration and LGBTQ issues. She was the lead attorney in the P.L.L.-R. case in Wisconsin, which addressed applying the marital presumption of parentage to married same-sex couples post-marriage equality. She acts as general counsel to a private adoption agency and fertility clinic and is retained frequently by counties and the state to serve as immigration counsel for children in foster care. Emily is a fellow and former vice president of the Academy of Adoption and Assisted Reproduction Attorneys (AAAA). She coauthored the AAAA's position paper submitted to the Hague Conference on Public International Law proposing a treaty framework to regulate international surrogacy arrangements, and she authored federal legislation regarding citizenship of children adopted abroad, which passed in 2013. She also is an elected member of the State Bar of Wisconsin's Children & the Law Section board and is active on its legislative committee. She earned her law degree cum laude from Tulane University Law School and her B.A. summa cum laude from Arizona State University. Emily was an extern for then-Chief Justice Shirley Abrahamson of the Wisconsin Supreme Court and for the Honorable Judge Sarah S. Vance of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana in New Orleans.

Theresa L. Roetter is a partner at DeWitt LLP in Madison, Wisconsin. She has practiced law in Madison since 1999 and began her legal career in Green and Lafayette Counties. She received her B.A. from St. Norbert College, with honors, in 1988 and her J.D. from Marquette University Law School in 1993. Theresa focuses her practice on adoption, surrogacy, guardianship, and other family law matters related to children. She has served as counsel in hundreds of adoptions and is a fellow, former vice president, and past board member of the Academy of Adoption and Assisted Reproduction Attorneys. In 2012, Theresa received the Governor's Champion of Adoption award and was named an "Angel in Adoption" by the Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute in Washington, D.C. She is an active member of the State Bar of Wisconsin, serving the Children & the Law Section on its legislative committee and as a former board member and past section chair.

Meghan M. Teigen is a partner with the law firm of Johnson Teigen, LLC, in Fitchburg, Wisconsin, where she practices in the areas of estate planning, special needs planning, elder law, and probate and trust administration. Meghan is active with numerous professional and community organizations by serving on boards and chairing committees, including the State Bar of Wisconsin's Elder Law and Special Needs Section (board member) and Real Property, Probate and Trust Law Section and the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (NAELA), for which she serves as co-chair of the special needs trust steering committee. She received her undergraduate degree in journalism and history from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and her J.D. from DePaul University College of Law.

Amanda Trecartin is an associate attorney with Hougum Law Firm, LLC, in Wausau, Wisconsin, where she practices in the areas of estate planning, elder law, special needs planning, probate and trust administration, and guardianship. Amanda received her B.S. in social work (summa cum laude) from Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Michigan. She received her law degree, with a concentration in estate planning, from the University of Wisconsin Law School. During law school, Amanda was senior managing editor of the Wisconsin Law Review and a clinical law student at the Family Court Clinic.