Advanced Skills and Techniques for Family Law Practice 2021

Co-produced with the Family Law Section of the State Bar of Wisconsin

Tinderbox conditions

Living through a pandemic is stressful for everyone, but it has intensified challenges for families who were already experiencing conflict. Advanced Skills and Techniques for Family Law Practice 2021 will examine issues complicated by COVID-19 – from divorced parents disagreeing over whether to send kids back to school in person to courts trying to safeguard sensitive matters over Zoom hearings.

Plus, discuss the importance of caring for yourself and how well-being can affect your bottom line for better or for worse.

How you'll benefit:

- Receive carefully tailored guidance on advanced family law topics from experienced practitioners
- Know what to do when divorcing parents disagree on whether to vaccinate their children
- Incorporate stock options into your maintenance and support calculations
- Weigh the pros and cons of online court and stipulated divorces
- Hear discussion of complex issues from court commissioners
- Support your practice by managing your personal wellness

Who should attend:

- Family law attorneys
- Children and the Law Section members
- General practitioners
