34th Annual Environmental Law Update

Co-produced with the Environmental Law Section of the State Bar of Wisconsin

Global guidance

Now that the U.S. Supreme Court has issued a ruling curbing the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) ability to regulate greenhouse gas emissions, how might the practice of environmental law be different? The 34th Annual Environmental Law Update is here to help you predict what's coming next and be ready to respond.

It's your all-in-one guide to the latest on regulatory developments and new initiatives such as the Department of Natural Resources' Enviro-Check program. You'll hear about the increasing importance of environmental, social, and corporate governance and get updates on water quality initiatives. And special guest EPA Regional Counselor Robert A. Kaplan delivers this year's can't-miss keynote address.

How you'll benefit:

- Understand key developments in environmental regulations, initiatives, and enforcement
- Hear updates directly from the EPA Region 5 Regional Counsel
- Stay current on the status of PFAS initiatives and regulations in Wisconsin
- Find out what environmental lawyers should know about environmental, social, and corporate governance
- Receive a review of your ethical obligations as an environmental law practitioner

Who should attend:

- Environmental lawyers
- Agricultural law attorneys
- Real estate lawyers
- Construction lawyers
- Municipal and government lawyers
