Legal Ethics 2023

New Opinions, New Rules, and New Issues

Co-produced with the State Bar of Wisconsin
Committee on Professional Ethics

The future is now

With the introduction of new technologies and modern business innovations, the practice of law is constantly evolving. Lawyers have responded by quickly adopting trending tech developments and business practices. Learn how ethical guidance is evolving to keep up with these changes at Legal Ethics 2023: New Opinions, New Rules, and New Issues.

Our presenters will help clarify your ethical duties in situations involving new rules for advanced fee payments, negative criticism on social media, artificial intelligence, office sharing, “replying all” to emails, and other common practice scenarios.

How you’ll benefit:

- Receive sound guidance from stalwarts of the State Bar’s Committee on Professional Ethics
- Analyze real-life ethical scenarios and assess how you would and should respond
- Review new ethics opinions on conflicts of interest, remote work, trust accounting, and more
- Understand and meet ethical obligations related to technology and communication
- Know how to respond when a colleague exhibits signs of impairment or distress

Who should attend:

- All lawyers
- Paralegals
- Legal assistants
- Law office managers
