

About the Supplement Author

Kimberley Bayer is a solo practitioner based in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and has represented parents and children in termination-of-parental-rights cases for 15 years. She graduated from Saint Mary's College in Notre Dame, Indiana, in 2009 and earned her law degree from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 2011. Before entering private practice, she was a staff attorney in the Milwaukee juvenile division of the Wisconsin State Public Defenders. She has a particular interest in questions of faith and spirituality and the ways they affect people involved in emotionally difficult proceedings, and she holds an M.A. from Sacred Heart Seminary and School of Theology. She lives with her husband and six children in both levels of a duplex in Milwaukee's Story Hill neighborhood.

