

About the Authors

Ryan M. Billings is a shareholder and chair of litigation at Kohner, Mann & Kailas, S.C., in Milwaukee. Mr. Billings began his career with Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP in New York and represents clients throughout the nation and internationally in complex litigation, appeals, and alternative dispute resolution. He is immediate past president of the State Bar of Wisconsin, having previously served as president, a member of the Board of Governors, chair of the Board of Governors Policy Committee, a member of the State Bar Executive Committee, and a member of the Wisconsin Judicial Council. Mr. Billings is also an active member of the American Bar Association, the Milwaukee Bar Association, the Seventh Circuit Bar Association, the Eastern District of Wisconsin Bar Association, and the Thomas E. Fairchild Chapter of the American Inns of Court. He has lectured and written extensively on emerging discovery law and practices, including for the Wisconsin Lawyer magazine and the Wisconsin Law Journal.

David S. Blinka is a shareholder at Habush Habush & Rottier S.C. He has practiced in the firm's Madison office since 2012 and has developed expertise in personal-injury claims, trial practice, and insurance law. Mr. Blinka graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 2012. Previously, he earned an M.A. in history from the University of Wisconsin–Madison and his undergraduate degree from Marquette University. He has served on the board of the Dane County Bar Association and is a member of the Wisconsin Association for Justice.

Bryan Cahill is a shareholder in the Madison office of Godfrey & Kahn, S.C. Mr. Cahill litigates eminent domain and land-use cases, defends products-liability and insurance-sales-practice actions, and represents clients in commercial litigation from pre-suit advising through trial and appeals. He served as a law clerk to Justice David T. Prosser on the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and he serves as a supplemental court commissioner in Dane County.

Stuart J. Check is an attorney with Studinski Law, LLC, in Plover, Wisconsin. He received his B.S. from the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire and graduated summa cum laude from Marquette University Law School in 2015. Before entering private practice, he was a law clerk for Hon. James A. Wynn, Jr. at the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit.

Timothy W. Feeley is a shareholder at the Milwaukee office of Hall, Render, Killian, Heath & Lyman, P.C., a national law firm with offices in Anchorage, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Raleigh, and Washington, D.C. He received his B.A. (cum laude) from Marquette University in 1989 and his J.D. (cum laude) from Marquette University Law School in 1992. He served as a judicial law clerk for the Wisconsin Court of Appeals from 1992 to 1994. He is licensed to practice in federal and state courts in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. Mr. Feeley's practice involves the representation of health-care clients, including hospitals, physician groups, nursing homes, and other licensed health-care professionals, with regard to health-care regulatory issues, qui tam actions and complaints filed under the False Claims Act, ERISA, labor and employment matters, insurance, medical staff disputes and bylaws, and issues relating to employees' post-termination restrictive covenants.

Robert L. Gegios concentrates his practice in business and commercial litigation, alternative dispute resolution, and general counseling in national and international settings. He is a former president of the Eastern District of Wisconsin Bar Association and of the Thomas E. Fairchild Chapter of the American Inns of Court and a former Wisconsin co-chair of the Fellows of the American Bar Foundation. Mr. Gegios has held numerous leadership positions within the American Bar Association and other professional organizations.

C. Kai Hovden is a partner in the Madison office of DeWitt LLP. Kai's primary practice areas are intellectual property litigation, including representing businesses and individuals in patent, trademark, and copyright lawsuits; and trusts and estates litigation, including probate contests and complex fiduciary litigation. Kai also frequently litigates in the transportation and logistics sector, representing shippers, carriers, and brokers. Kai received his undergraduate degree (cum laude) in international politics and Spanish from Winona State University in 2014 and his J.D. (cum laude) from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 2017. He is admitted to practice in Wisconsin state courts and in the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Wisconsin.

Robert L. Jaskulski is a shareholder with Habush Habush & Rottier S.C., practicing in Milwaukee, Waukesha, and West Bend. He received his B.A. (magna cum laude) from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 1985. He graduated cum laude from Marquette University Law School in 1988. He is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin, for which he served as chair of the Litigation Section board; the Milwaukee Bar Association; and the American Association for Justice, for which he serves on the board of governors. He is also an Associate of the American Board of Trial Advocates and a Fellow in the International Society of Barristers. He is a member and on the board of the Wisconsin Association for Justice, for which he served as president in 2007. He has been certified as a Civil Trial Specialist by the National Board of Trial Advocacy. He is a frequent lecturer throughout Wisconsin on the subject of trial advocacy and was the author of the chapter on jury selection in Eric L. Andrews et al., Wisconsin Trial Practice (State Bar of Wis. 4th ed. 2019 & Supp.) and the chapter on physical, mental, and vocational examinations in Ryan M. Billings et al., Wisconsin Discovery Law and Practice (State Bar of Wis. 6th ed. 2023).

David E. McFarlane is of counsel with Bell, Moore & Richter, S.C., in Madison, where he practices in medical malpractice defense, civil litigation, insurance defense, and employment defense. He received his B.S. from the University of Wisconsin and his J.D. (with honors) from the University of Wisconsin Law School. Mr. McFarlane's primary area of practice is the defense of complex medical malpractice cases and business litigation in which expert witnesses play a key role. He is a member of the Dane County Bar Association, the Defense Research Institute, and the State Bar of Wisconsin, and he is admitted to practice before the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Wisconsin and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

Laurel C. Montag was formerly a corporate and intellectual property associate in the Brookfield office of DeWitt LLP. Her practice primarily focused on employee stock ownership plans, employee benefits, real estate, trademarks, and patent litigation. Laurel graduated from Colorado State University in 2019 with a degree in journalism and political science and earned her J.D. (cum laude) from Marquette University Law School in 2022. She is admitted to practice in Wisconsin state courts.

Richard Orton is a trial lawyer and partner at Gass Turek LLC in Milwaukee. Mr. Orton handles a broad range of civil trials and appeals, focusing his practice on products liability, general liability, professional liability, and commercial, construction, and insurance litigation. He regularly represents clients in catastrophic-injury and other complex claims in state and federal courts throughout Wisconsin and the United States. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School and Marquette University.

Matthew Stippich is a principal, general counsel, and president of professional services for Digital Intelligence, a provider of digital forensic and e-discovery services, training, and equipment. He advises on, implements, and performs strategies relating to electronically stored information (ESI) for a wide range of clients, and he focuses on managing costs associated with the preservation, searching, and production of ESI in litigation as well as for internal investigations. Mr. Stippich works extensively with corporate legal and IT teams to develop proactive best practices for managing ESI issues associated with litigation, employment, and security events. Past projects have included developing and implementing ESI strategies in response to U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission and U.S. Department of Justice investigations of potential violations of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act in more than 40 countries. Mr. Stippich frequently writes and speaks on topics related to e-discovery and digital forensics. He is an adjunct professor of law at Marquette University Law School, where he teaches a class on electronic discovery and digital evidence. He is also a partner in the Milwaukee-based law firm of Stippich Selin & Cain, LLC. Mr. Stippich received his J.D. from Marquette University Law School and his undergraduate degree from Grinnell College.

Past Authors

Melinda A. Bialzik
Richard L. Bolton
Marilyn M. Carroll
James R. Cole
Robert B. Corris
Donald A. Daugherty, Jr.
Stephen A. DiTullio
Alec Dobson
Merrick R. Domnitz
Margaret Grabowski
Jeffrey A. Kaczmariski

Jennifer J. Kopp
Mark M. Leitner
John W. Markson
Deborah C. Meiners
Chelsey B. Metcalf
Shane T. Roeber
Deborah K. Scheid
Sheila M. Sullivan
Stephen D.R. Taylor
Barret V. Van Sicklen
Mark S. Young

